As he remains unconscious, his body is washed into a lake and consequently found by a rescue worker who performs CPR and delivers him to a nearby hospital. During the ambulance ride, it is revealed that his name is Kenny, his sister's name is Kelly and he is an only child. "When you don't belong, it's hard to make any friends. That's my problem. I'm the kid with the glasses who can't run, can't ride a bike, can't make friends, and who wears glasses". Kenny says to a classmate at school. Ride the Lightning The second film is the 2005 animated film "Ride the Lightning", which is based on the comic book of the same name. It takes place in the same universe, where the world is destroyed after a massive solar storm (also known as "Kelsey's Storm") which is named after Kenny. The story takes place approximately three years after the events of Kenny Lonergan's appearance in the live-action film, where he lives with his father and his sister. Kenny is working in the same souvenir shop as his father and is the only one of the family who doesn't fear the tornado, which is said to have appeared after the storm. The high voltage power line which Kenny works on will be knocked off its supports by a violent gust of wind, knocking him and the park bench on which he's sitting onto the ground. As the wind vanishes, he notices that his head is bleeding. He rushes back to the souvenir shop and his father takes him to the hospital, where he learns that the storm did indeed cause him to lose blood. The doctor informs them that his blood pressure is low and he needs medical attention. The doctor says that it could be a heart problem and asks his father to take him to the hospital. His father has a difficult time because of the increasing congestion in the city caused by the storm. When they arrive, they learn that there is a five-minute time limit for hospital admittance, and therefore they must hurry. However, a car accident is taking place in the middle of the street. While they are dealing with the situation, the doctor calls the father and informs him that his son is going into cardiorespiratory arrest and that they are trying to perform CPR. The father drives while holding onto the handle bar and the doctor is sitting in the passenger seat. As he notices Kenny beginning to breathe again, he sees his final chance to save him.
